RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE

HISTORY AND PURPOSE

The Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees was incorporated in 1830, and is empowered by its charter to establish and conduct educational institutions in any part of Virginia. Under this authority it controls Randolph-Macon College, for men, at Ashland, Va.; Randolph-Macon Academies, for boys, at Bedford City and Front Royal, Va.; and Randolph-Macon Institute, for girls, at Danville, Va.

In 1891 the Board was entrusted with a large fund raised by subscription in the city of Lynchburg and asked to create a college for women that should offer advantages equal to those of the best colleges for men in Virginia. The purpose of the founders was expressed in the following statement:

> "We wish to establish in Virginia a college where our young women may obtain an education equal to that given in our best colleges for young men, and under environments in harmony with the highest ideals of womanhood; where the dignity and strength of fully-developed faculties and the charm of the highest literary culture may be acquired by our daughters without loss to woman's crowning glory—her gentleness and grace."

The desire thus expressed has been realized beyond their most sanguine expectations. The highest standards have been maintained, and for years past the attendance has been limited only by the capacity of the dormitories. The undertaking is fully past the experimental stage, and the College is now generally recognized as one of the leading high-grade colleges for women in the United States.

The Trustees have specially instructed the President to conduct the College on a non-sectarian plan, and students of all denominations are welcomed.

LOCATION

Randolph-Macon Woman's College is situated in the suburbs of Lynchburg. Electric cars pass the College gates at frequent intervals, and give easy access to all parts of the city. The campus, originally consisting of twenty acres and now increased to almost sixty, extends from Rivermont Avenue to the bluffs overlooking the James River. It is noted for its great natural beauty. Diversified with hills and dales and winding walks, and adorned with ornamental shrubs and flowers as well as with native vines and forest trees, it affords ample opportunity for healthful recreation and outdoor life. In the distance rise the Peaks of Otter, and the presence, in the vicinity, of many lesser spurs of the Blue Ridge Mountains adds to the attractiveness of the landscape. The natural drainage of the campus is perfect, the sanitary arrangements are modern, and all the conditions of health which characterize this famous Piedmont Region of Virginia are found united here. Increased vigor and healthful physical development usually accompany the intellectual advancement of students.

The United States Weather Bureau has an office in Lynchburg, where official records have been kept for many years.

They show for the school months:

Mean temperature in September	69°
Mean temperature in October	58°
Mean temperature in November	47°
Mean temperature in December	40°
Mean temperature in January	37°
Mean temperature in February	39°
Mean temperature in March	46°
Mean temperature in April	56°
Mean temperature in May	66°
Mean temperature in June	74°

The lowest temperature recorded was six degrees below zero for a single day in thirty-eight years.

THE RELIGIOUS LIFE OF THE COLLEGE

Randolph-Macon Woman's College aims to promote the highest type of Christian womanhood and to develop the spirit of Christian service. Effort is made to engage as professors and teachers men and women, not only of competent scholarship, but of wholesome moral and religious influence. A distinct place is made in the college program of study and activities for religious services and efforts. The daily exercises of the College are opened with religious worship conducted by members of the faculty and attended by all of the students. One course in the Bible is required of all candidates for the degree. In addition to the Bible classes given as a part of the regular College curriculum various courses are offered by the Young Women's Christian Association and are taught by several professors and advanced students. About four hundred girls are usually enrolled in these classes. Vesper Services are conducted every Sunday evening, generally by ministers from the city.

Students are encouraged to attend the church and sunday school of their choice in the city, and many avail themselves of the privilege. It is the purpose of the institution to maintain those ethical standards which would commend themselves to thoughtful parents.

GOVERNMENT

The government of the College corresponds to the character of the students expected. The requirements are only such as are necessary to the comfort and success of students, and appeal is made to their sense of propriety and right. Vexatious and needless restrictions are dispensed with. Ladylike conduct is expected of all, and confidence reposed in students is one of the educative forces of the College. Should any student persistently fail to respond to this expectation, she must be withdrawn as unprepared for college responsibilities. The preservation of order in the buildings and matters of college etiquette are largely left to the "Student Committee," and self-government has been gradually extended in other lines as such action has seemed wise, with results highly satisfactory to officers and students.

Young ladies boarding in the College will be treated as daughters of equal maturity in a well-regulated Christian family. It will, however, be borne in mind that they are gathered here for nine months for a serious purpose, and the regulations of the College will be such as to protect them from interruption or distraction.

The College reserves the right to exclude at any time students whose conduct or academic standing it regards as undesirable.

MEDICAL CARE

Believing that careful, skilled supervision of sanitary arrangements and daily medical attention will greatly conduce to the health of students, the Board has engaged a physician of repute and experience to take charge of these matters. He is present each morning to be consulted by any student who may be indisposed, to attend to all cases of sickness in the College, and to supervise the sanitary arrangements of the institution. This valuable service is provided by the College without additional cost to the student.

BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT

SMITH HALL

Smith Hall, named in 1911 at the unanimous request of the student body in honor of Dr. W. W. Smith, the first president and founder of the College, occupies a commanding eminence facing Rivermont Avenue on the south and west, and overlooking the valley of the James and the noble range of the Blue Ridge on the north and west. This is the original college building, and, together with its annexes and additions, provides for the administrative offices, parlors, society halls, class and lecture rooms, art studio, music rooms, psychological and physical laboratories and lecture rooms, dining-hall, and dormitories for about 250 students. The building was commenced in 1892, and completed in its present form in 1899. It is a model college home, and, with its minarets, towers, dormer windows, ivy-clad walls, and wistaria-covered porches, presents a chaste and attractive style of college architecture.

SCIENCE HALL

Science Hall, erected in 1906, is situated to the east of Smith Hall, and is connected to it by the main corridor. The first three floors are devoted to the laboratories and class rooms of the departments of Chemistry and Biology, and the fourth is occupied by the college museum. For the erection of the building Mr. Andrew Carnegie contributed $20,000, and, in compliance with his condition, friends of the College raised an additional $20,000 for its maintenance.

THE JONES MEMORIAL LIBRARY

The Jones Memorial Library, a companion building to Science Hall, occupies a similar situation to the west of Smith Hall. This building, erected in 1907, was made possible through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Jones, of Lynchburg. It is a memorial to their deceased daughters, Georgia Lee and Lillie Fannie Jones.

It is equipped with modern library furniture, and has shelf room for about 50,000 volumes. At present the ground floor is used for class and lecture rooms of the department of English.

EAST AND WEST HALLS

East and West Halls were built, respectively, in 1904 and 1906, and are each complete with its own parlor, reception room, matron's quarters, infirmary, dining-room, pantry, cold storage, and kitchen. Each furnishes accommodations for about 100 young ladies, and is connected with the other buildings mentioned above by the main corridor, forming a complete frontage of over 700 feet.

NEW HALL

New Hall, a companion building in structure, size, and equipment to East and West, was erected in 1909, and, with the Observatory, forms the western side of the quadrangle.

GYMNASIUM

The gymnasium, erected in 1909, is located on the western slope of the beautiful ravine extending through the rear of the campus. It is a two-story building of modern fire-proof construction, and contains on the first floor a large drill hall 100 by 50 feet, with a gallery and running track; a trophy and rest room, and a director's office. The lower floor is equipped with sixteen marble showers with hot and cold water connections, thirty-two dressing-rooms, and five hundred steel lockers. At one end of this floor is a splendid white tile swimming-pool, 20 by 40 feet, with a graduated depth of 4 to 6 feet. A patent overflow, especially designed for sanitation of the pool, carries off continually the surface water. In the basement are the drying rooms and special pumps and engines for changing and heating the water in the pool and baths. The gymnasium is well furnished with the best apparatus for physical development, such as wands, dumb-bells, Indian clubs, balance ladders, German horse, Swedish box, boom, stall bars, ropes, flying rings, etc.

PRESIDENT'S HOUSE

The President's house, completed in the spring of 1915, is a modern, two-story brick residence with red tile roof. It is located at 2460 Rivermont Avenue, and commands in the rear a magnificent view of the college campus and of the Blue Ridge.

ATHLETIC GROUNDS

In direct connection with the gymnasium, and conveniently located, are spacious grounds for the outdoor recreations of the students. Four clay tennis courts are kept in constant use during the fall and spring, while the basket-ball court, with its bleachers, is the scene of many a hotly contested game. The athletic field proper is 250 by 100 feet, containing a cinder running track 75 yards in length, a jumping pit, a vaulting bar, facilities and room for all field sports.

THE WINFREE OBSERVATORY

The Winfree Observatory is situated near the front gate of the campus, and contains an excellent equatorial telescope, the gift of the late Major C. V. Winfree.

THE CENTRAL HEATING, LIGHT, AND POWER PLANT

The central heating, light, and power plant is located on the hillside in the rear of Smith Hall, and furnishes power for the laundry and ice plant, and heat for all the buildings on the campus, thus greatly reducing the danger from fire and the annoyance from smoke and coal dust in the several college buildings and dormitories. The ice plant, with a daily capacity of 2,000 pounds, is located in this building.

During the summer of 1915 there was installed, in connection with the central heating plant, an electric light and power plant, which supplies all of the college buildings and laboratories with electric current sufficient for all needs.

LAUNDRY

The college laundry is a two-story building located near the heating plant, and gives employment to more than 60 day laborers.

WATER SUPPLY

The College is supplied with water from the Lynchburg municipal reservoir located twenty-three miles away in the mountains. As a further precaution the College has recently installed, at considerable expense, a filter plant, which insures an abundant supply of pure water for all college purposes.

FRATERNITY LODGES

On a romantic pathway, leading past the athletic field and gymnasium, are some dozen cottages, which, with their wide verandas and cozy parlors, furnish attractive meeting places for the several fraternities and secret societies of the College.

All college buildings and dormitories are constructed of dark red brick and are covered with slate roofing. They are equipped with patent fire-extinguishers and outside fire-escapes. Other buildings on the campus are the modern residences occupied by the Dean and the College Treasurer.

LIBRARY

The library contains at present more than 20,000 volumes, admirably selected and well adapted for the needs of the several departments of the College. It is in charge of a trained librarian and several assistants. The Dewey system of classification has been adopted, and the books are catalogued on cards by author, title, and subject matter, in accordance with the most approved library methods. The reading room subscribes to several daily papers, most of the important weekly and monthly periodicals, a number of American and foreign reviews, and many technical journals. It also receives gratuitously a number of religious and secular papers, as well as many college publications. Both the library and reading room are open from nine in the morning until ten-thirty in the evening. Students have direct access to the shelves, and there is abundant opportunity for reference work in the library itself, and in the departmental libraries, which are under the immediate supervision of the several professors. The College expends about $3,000 annually for the purchase of new books. It is very desirable that the library should be endowed with a permanent fund for maintenance and the purchase of new books.

LABORATORIES

The Department of Biology occupies rooms on the first, third, and fourth floors of Science Hall. There are ten rooms, including a general lecture room, three laboratories, library, office, dark-room, storeroom, and vivarium. The equipment comprises over seventy-five compound microscopes, microtomes, paraffin and sterilizing ovens, incubators, a stereopticon, an Edinger projection apparatus, physiological apparatus, charts, Ziegler embryological models, Ziegler and Auzoux anatomical models, and several thousand illustrative specimens. Over seventeen hundred dollars are expended yearly for supplies and new equipment.

The Department of Chemistry occupies the first two floors, about 6,400 square feet, of Science Hall. Here are located five laboratories, a lecture room, a storeroom, and professor's office. The permanent equipment represents an expenditure of about twelve thousand dollars; and approximately two thousand dollars are expended annually for supplies.

The Department of Physics is located on the lower floor of the Annex of Smith Hall, and consists of a modern lecture room with 110 seats arranged in semicircular tiers, a general laboratory room, two rooms for advanced work in electricity and optics, and a workshop. The floor space occupied is about 3,500 square feet. The equipment consists of an extensive supply of classroom demonstration apparatus, besides an ample supply for the laboratory work of first, second, and third year students. The laboratory is fully supplied with water, gas, and electricity. Alternating and direct currents are obtained from the city's electric mains, and from the Department's dynamos, storage batteries, and step-up and step-down transformers. From a distributing board current is sent to all points of the laboratory. A projection lantern, X-ray apparatus, Crookes tubes, electric vacuum and compress pump, standard Weston voltmeters, ammeters, and wattmeters, electro-dynamometers, potentiometer, standard resistances, Clark and Weston cells, decade and box bridges, Rowland concave grating, and spectrometers are included in the supply of high-class apparatus. A wireless telegraph and telephone outfit is in operation. About eight hundred dollars is expended annually for supplies and equipment.

The Psychological Laboratory, dating from 1893, was one of the first established in this country. The equipment is large and well selected, including all the necessary materials and apparatus for qualitative analysis of sensations, as well as the more elaborate apparatus for quantitative analysis. The laboratory consists of nine rooms given exclusively to its use, two of these being dark-rooms fitted for experiments in after-images and other experiments in light. Motive power for the apparatus needing it is furnished by five electric motors. There is a departmental library of several hundred volumes in general and physiological psychology and on the applications of psychology to the interests of practical life.

MUSEUM

The fourth floor of Science Hall is utilized for the display of material illustrating mineralogy, geology, archæology, ethnology, conchology, and comparative anatomy. The specimens, which embrace several thousand titles, were carefully selected with a view to their specific value as typical illustrations. This collection represents a permanent investment of about ten thousand dollars. It is judiciously increased from time to time.

ENDOWMENT AND AID FUNDS

The endowment of the College enables it to secure and retain professors of high ability and scholarship. There are also loan funds, scholarships, and other aids to assist capable students of limited means to secure the advantages of the College.

Dr. Samuel Rolfe Millar has established a perpetual scholarship in honor of his mother, a relative of John Randolph. Applicants from Warren County, Virginia, are to be first considered for this assistance.

The Norfolk College Alumnæ and their Saunders Memorial Chapter have given $1,500 as a memorial fund in honor of the late Rev. R. M. Saunders, the interest of which sum is given annually to some student selected by the donors.

The Board of Trustees has established three scholarships which carry free tuition for one year and are annually awarded by the faculty to the three students making the highest grades, respectively, in the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Classes.

LECTURES AND CONCERTS

It is the policy of the College to invite, from time to time, distinguished speakers, lecturers, and artists to appear on the college platform. Occasionally, also, members of the faculty deliver public addresses on topics of timely interest. During the past twelve months the following lecturers have spoken in the college chapel on the subjects stated below:

The Tenth Annual Art Exhibition

April 16th—May 7th

Paintings by Bellows, Burroughs, Butler, Cooper, Critcher, DeHaven, Henri, Redfield, Schwartz, and Spencer.

Sculpture by Aitken, Baer, Borglum, Dallin, Derginsky, DuMond, Frishmuth, Groll, Hyatt, Konti, Korbel, Longman, Nocquet, Parsons, Polasek, Potter, Putnam, Rumsey, Ryder, and Vonnoh.

Randolph-Macon counts its Annual Exhibition a valuable part of the cultural opportunities of college life.

In addition to this Annual Exhibition which the College gives free of charge to its students and friends, an Art Association has been formed for the purpose of bringing more exhibitions of paintings, sculpture and works of art for the benefit and enjoyment of its members. The officers of this Association—The Randolph-Macon Art Association of Lynchburg—consists of members of the faculty, student body, and prominent citizens of Lynchburg. These exhibitions are also held in the College, and are open daily to its members.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Young Women's Christian Association is a vital factor in the religious life of the college community. In addition to conducting weekly meetings for prayer and religious instruction, it promotes a healthy and intelligent interest in social and moral problems and in the work of missions at home and abroad, and successfully maintains a number of Bible and mission study classes under the direction of the faculty and advanced students. In connection with the various religious and philanthropical bodies of the city, it offers, to a limited extent, an opportunity for engaging in practical religious work. It maintains an exchange committee, and has its headquarters in an attractively furnished office on the main corridor.

THE STUDENT COMMITTEE

As has been stated before, the government of the students is left in a large measure to "The Student Committee," a body composed of representative students from each class. The Student Committee has as its special duty the upholding and dissemination of the Honor System throughout the student body, and the creating of the spirit and morale of Randolph-Macon. Order and discipline throughout the dormitories are under student supervision, as are matters pertaining to honor, in the classroom and without. Randolph-Macon is particularly proud of her Honor System. It extends over all phases of college life, and does much to develop high standards and individual responsibility in the character of each student.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE COMMITTEE

This sub-committee of the Student Committee aids each girl, by means of conferences, lectures, and personal interviews, in choosing her vocation.

DEBATING COUNCIL

A Debating Council has been formed for the purpose of stimulating interest among the students in public speaking and of directing intercollegiate debating.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The Tattler is published monthly during the school year by a Board of Editors elected from the Senior and Junior classes.

The Helianthus, edited by the Senior and Junior classes, is the college annual, and represents an illustrated record of the college activities of the year.

The Sun Dial is published weekly by the Student Committee, and gives news items of interest to the college community.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association has general charge of all interclass athletic contests. All students are eligible to membership. Supervision of the athletics is in the hands of a board of control composed of the Director of Physical Education and Instructors and of representatives of the student body.

DRAMATIC CLUB

A Dramatic Club has been organized for the study of the drama and for the purpose of presenting at least one public dramatic representation during the college year.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

In 1919, following the practice in many colleges and universities, the students of Randolph-Macon Woman's College organized an International Relations Club for the purpose of studying international problems. Membership in the Club is voluntary and is limited to those students who are willing and able to devote some of their time to the study of current international affairs. A member of the faculty acts as adviser to the Club but the actual work is done by the students themselves. Bi-weekly meetings are held at which reports on assigned topics are made and discussed.

In addition to the regular meetings the Club is from time to time addressed on international subjects by visiting speakers. Among these speakers have been: Baron S. A. Korff, Dr. John Holland Rose, of Cambridge University (England), Professor Eric Horne, of India, Professor Lindsay Rogers, of Columbia University, Dr. Charles W. Levermore, of New York.

BUREAU OF APPOINTMENTS

The College, through a committee of the faculty, assists such graduates as wish to teach in finding suitable positions. This service is rendered without charge except for a registration fee of one dollar, which is charged to help cover office expenses. Former students and graduates who wish further information should address The Bureau of Appointments.

EXAMINATIONS

There are two examinations, conducted in writing, one at the close of the half session in January, the other at the close of the session in June. A student who fails to pass an approved examination loses her right to advance to a higher course. Students are required to attend the examinations of their classes; and whenever, for any cause, a special examination is asked for and granted, the student must pay a special fee of $5.

REPORTS

A report of the standing of each student is made to her parent or guardian at the end of every quarter during the session, and such special remarks will be appended as each case may suggest.

THE NEEDS OF RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Randolph-Macon Woman's College for twenty-nine years has been sending out a constant stream of trained and cultured young women.

It has made a notable contribution to the life of the South in particular, as well as done helpful service to the country at large. Its students have come from every state and its graduates have gone to the ends of the earth to build homes, to teach, to nurse, to carry the truth and the gospel. Especially has it contributed to the teaching profession—being one of the most fruitful sources of college-trained teachers in the Southern States.

But it has many needs!

To carry on its work it needs at once a very large increase in its endowment. There is no more urgent need than enlarged endowment.

It needs at once an administration building, for the proper housing of its business offices and for additional class rooms.

It needs a large infirmary, to take care of the sick in the most efficient manner.

It needs a science building for the adequate housing of its departments of Chemistry, Biology, Physics, and Psychology.

It needs a Chapel in which to hold its religious services and to house its religious activities.

It needs dormitories to take care of a large number of ambitious girls who wish to go to college, and who believe Randolph-Macon has something distinctive to offer.

There are other needs in money, equipment and buildings, for the prosecution of our work in the strongest way.

We would be glad to have opportunity to give further information about the service of the College or about the needs mentioned above or other needs.

HOW ONE MAY HELP RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE

There is nothing better one can do than to add to the endowment of the College. Contributions to the endowment may take the form of the endowment of a Chair. This can be done by a gift of $50,000. The partial endowment of a Chair, however, would be received. The Chair could then be named for the donor, or in memory of a deceased relative or friend. For instance, one could endow the "Julia Smith Chair of Political Science," or History, or Chemistry, etc.

It could take the form of the endowment of a scholarship or scholarships of $3,000 or more each, the income to assist in paying the expenses of a deserving young woman. The scholarship could also be named by the donor.

The Library could be endowed, or the section of the Library containing the books of a department. Any amount of money would start a fund. Books purchased with the income from this sum could bear the bookplates of the donor and the collection could be called by his or her name or that of some designated person. Gifts of any amount would be received for that purpose. Or the gift could be an addition to the general endowment of the institution, to be applied according to the discretion of the College authorities.

Also a building or a section of a building could be given by an individual, family, or firm, and this building or section of building could bear a name agreed on by the College and the donor.

Is there any better monument one could erect to his deceased friends, or a nobler permanent memorial of one's self than a perpetual endowment fund in a worthy college, or than a building on the campus of a great institution which will live forever?

Many persons remember institutions of learning in their wills by sums of money large or small. Randolph-Macon Woman's College has many friends, and there are many friends of Education or of young women on whose hearts it would lay this message.

With reference to any matter relating to the needs of the College or the subjects mentioned on this or the preceding page, write

D. R. ANDERSON, President,
Lynchburg, Va.

III. For Art (according to advancement)—

1. Regular course in studio (10 hours per week)	27.00
2. Double course in studio (20 hours per week)	45.00

IV. Special Physical Training—

Fencing, five in class, each	5.00
Medical work; private lessons	32.50
Medical work; four in class	10.00

V. Laboratory Fees—

Students taking laboratory courses in Chemistry I, or in Biology, Mineralogy, or Physics, pay a laboratory fee of $5 for material and use of apparatus. For advanced elective courses in Analytical Chemistry the laboratory fee is $10. The laboratory fee in Psychology is $2.50; in Geology, $1; in Interior Decoration, $4.

Terms of Payment.—Twenty-five dollars when room is reserved. This amount is credited on account when the student enters. It will not be refunded unless the application is canceled prior to July 1st, or unless the preparation is found insufficient. Two hundred and forty-seven dollars and fifty cents on entrance. Dues for special courses are payable November 1st. All dues for second term are payable February 1, 1923.

☞ A rebate of ten per cent of the tuition fees will be allowed any student whose sister or brother is also attending any of the schools of the Randolph-Macon System.

☞ The proportionate part of board alone will be refunded when students leave by advice of our college physician. Should a student withdraw at our instance, the proportionate part of all fees will be refunded. In no other case will any reimbursement be made.

SUMMARY

From the above it will be seen that the cost of the courses most usually taken is as follows:

I. For students taking the regular literary course—
Tuition, Matriculation, Library and Maintenance Fee..	$115.00
Board	150.00
Use of gymnasium	7.50
Total for half session.....	$272.50
II. For students taking three or four literary subjects and course in Music—
Literary course, with board, etc., as above.....	$272.50
Music	50.00
Use of piano two periods daily.....	7.50
Total for half session.....	$330.00
III. For students specializing in Art—
Literary course, with board, etc., as above.....	$272.50
Art, double time	45.00
Total for half session.....	$317.50

☞ To these charges add laboratory fee, if student takes a science having laboratory work.

☞ Any student who fails to return promptly at the close of any holiday will be required to stand a special examination on the recitations missed, and a fee of $2, in each subject, will be charged for giving these examinations.

Furniture.—The College supplies the students' rooms with bedstead, bureau, wardrobe, washstand, chairs, mattresses, pillows, and crockery. Each student should bring with her sheets, blankets, and counterpanes for single bed; pillow cases (size 32 x 20 inches), towels, and hot-water bottle; also one dozen napkins, marked napkin-ring, and any other articles of use or ornament desired for her room, such as knife, fork and spoon, pictures, etc.

Laundry.—Each student is entitled to the washing of plain pieces amounting to $4.60 per month, free of charge, in the college lanudry. Students can have extra pieces washed by paying for them at college laundry rates, which are 30 per cent lower than those charged by Lynchburg city laundries.

No article will be received for the laundry which is not plainly and indelibly marked.

Guests.—The College is compelled to charge students for their guests remaining longer than three days.

The Student Budget.—There are certain expenses, not included in the College charges or paid to the College Treasurer, which are established by the students among themselves. They constitute a Student Budget, amounting to $10.00, and are paid on entrance to the Treasurer of the Student Committee. This amount includes class dues, student body dues, membership in the Athletic Association, a tax for May Day, and the Debating Council, and also subscriptions to The Sun Dial, The Tattler, and The Helianthus.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

I. Freshmen.—For admission to the Freshman Class the applicant must be at least fifteen years of age, and must show preparation, by examination or certificate, amounting to fifteen units. It is the policy of the institution to admit no students except those who have completed a four-year high school course or its equivalent. A unit is considered as representing not less than one year's work in a standard high school, five recitations weekly, and the total in each subject must cover satisfactorily the work called for in the "Definition of Requirements" given below. Of the fifteen units which the candidate must offer, eight and one-half are prescribed in Group 1, and six and one-half units are elective from Group 2 of the following tabular statement:

GROUP 1. Prescribed Units, 8½

English	3 units
Mathematics (Algebra 1½, Plane Geometry 1)	2½ units
Latin	3 units

GROUP 2. Elective Units, 6½

Six and one-half units must be offered from the following:

French	2, 3, or 4 units
German	2, 3, or 4 units
Spanish	2 units
Latin (Virgil)	1 unit
Greek	1, 2, or 3 units
History	1, 2, or 3 units
Civics	½ or 1 unit
History of English or American Literature	1 unit
Physics	1 unit
Chemistry	1 unit
Biology	1 unit
Botany	½ unit
Zoölogy	½ unit
Physiography	½ or 1 unit
Solid Geometry	½ unit

If the applicant can not offer the full fifteen units she may be admitted conditionally as follows:

1. She must offer at least six and a half units from Group 1 made up as follows:

English—not less than 2½ nor more than 3 units.

Mathematics—not less than 2 (including Plane Geometry) nor more than 2½ units.

Latin—not less than 2 nor more than 3 units.*

2. She must also offer additional units from Group 2 to make up a total of at least thirteen. Such conditioned student must make up her deficiency during her Freshman year, if possible, and at her own expense.

Students who fail to meet this requirement will not be allowed to return the second year.

3. It is understood that even conditioned students must present fifteen units acceptable to the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, of which this institution has been for many years a member. The thirteen units referred to in the paragraph above are to be selected from our own list on the preceding page.

II. Irregular Students.—Students who can meet the entrance requirements, but do not intend to apply for a degree, may be matriculated on the following conditions:

First. They must be at least seventeen years of age.

Second. They must devote at least three-fifths of their time (nine recitations weekly) to studies selected from the departments of History, Languages, Sciences, Mathematics, or Philosophy. Fifteen recitations per week are required. They must remove all entrance conditions within the first year of residence, if possible, and at their own expense.

Students who fail to meet this requirement will not be allowed to return the second year.

III. Special Students.—Teachers and other mature persons, not less than twenty-one years old, desiring special courses, are admitted to classes for which they are prepared, according to the rules of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, without standing the regular examinations.

They must also conform to the rule regarding the minimum number of recitation periods as stated in paragraph "Second" under "Irregular Students."

*Though only 3 units of Latin are required, a student may offer an additional elective unit in that subject. Students who enter with 3 units are required to take the college course in Virgil while students who offer 4 units are required to take the course in Livy and Horace.

IV. ADVANCED STANDING.—Students having completed courses in other colleges of high rank may be granted advanced standing on presenting satisfactory evidence of such work to the Committee on Advanced Standing.

But work done in schools of lower rank will be accepted in lieu of college work only by special examination.

DEFINITIONS OF ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

GROUP 1. PRESCRIBED SUBJECTS

ENGLISH (three units).—The study of English in school has two main objects: (1) Command of correct and clear English, spoken and written; (2) ability to read with accuracy, intelligence, and appreciation.

The three units are divided as follows:

English Grammar, one-half unit; Composition and Rhetoric, a unit and a half. English grammar should be reviewed in the secondary school; and correct spelling and grammatical accuracy should be rigorously exacted in connection with all written work during the four years. The principles of English composition governing punctuation, the use of words, sentences, and paragraphs should be thoroughly mastered; and practice in composition, oral as well as written, should extend throughout the secondary school period.

Literature, one unit.

The books to be read under this head are divided into two classes —Reading and Study. Those classed under the head of Reading are to be read carefully, but the student should not fix her attention upon the details to such an extent that she fails to appreciate the main purpose and charm of what she reads. The books grouped under the head of Study should be thoroughly studied in class. The lists of books used are those recommended by the Conference on Uniform Requirements in English and may be obtained upon application to the Registrar, Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

LATIN (four units).—School Grammar, such as Gildersleeve's, Allen and Greenough's, or Bennett's. Accurate knowledge of the forms is insisted upon. Exercise in prose composition should be written throughout the entire course of preparation. Reading: Four books of Cæsar, six orations of Cicero, and six books of Virgil's Æneid. Sight-translation of easy prose.

In accordance with the report of the Commission on College Entrance Requirements in Latin, an amount of reading equivalent to the above may be selected from the following authors and their works:

Cæsar (Gallic War and Civil War) and Nepos (Lives); Cicero (orations, letters, and De Senectute) and Sallust (Cataline and Jugurthine War); Virgil (Bucolics, Georgics, and Æneid) and Ovid (Metamorphases, Fasti, and Tristia).

All candidates, however, must offer the following prescribed reading: Cicero, orations for the Manilian Law and for Archias, and Virgil, Æneid, I, II, and either IV or VI, at the option of the candidate.

The Committee especially recommends that in the training of the student increased stress be laid upon translation at sight.

Mathematics (counting two and one-half units).—(a) *Algebra (one and one-half units).—The four fundamental operations for rational algebraic expressions; factoring, determination of highest common factor and lowest common multiple by factoring; fractions, including complex fractions; ratio and proportion; linear equations, both numerical and literal, containing one or more unknown quantities; problems depending on linear equations; radicals, including the extraction of the square root of polynomials and numbers; exponents, including the fractional and negative.

Quadratic equations, both numerical and literal; simple cases of equations with one or more unknown quantities that can be solved by the methods of linear or quadratic equations; problems depending upon quadratic equations; the binomial theorem for positive integral exponents; the formulas for the *n*th term and the sum of the terms of arithmetical and geometrical progressions, with applications.

(b) Plane Geometry (one unit).—The usual theorems and constructions of good textbooks, including the general properties of plane rectilinear figures; the circle and the measurements of angles; similar polygons; areas; regular polygons and the measurement of the circle. The solution of numerous original exercises, including loci problems. Application to the mensuration of lines and plane surfaces.

*Credited two units if two years are devoted to the subject.

GROUP 2. ELECTIVE SUBJECTS

GREEK (three units).—Elementary grammar, with special attention to forms and practice in prose composition. Reading: Four books of Xenophon's Anabasis; three books of Homer's Iliad. Translation of easy prose at sight.

GERMAN† (two, three or four units).

Minimum (two units).—The minimum requirement in German may be met by two years' work in the high school. For the first year: Careful drill in pronunciation is necessary. Elementary phonetic explanation and practice of the German sounds are especially recommended, based, for example, on some such presentation as that in Chapter IV of The Teaching of Modern Languages, by Leopold Bahlsen (Ginn & Co.). This year should further comprise thorough elementary work in inflection, word-order, and syntax. The reading should consist of from 75 to 100 pages of graduated texts. At least six German poems should be learned by heart during this year.

The second year's work should continue the frequent exercises in writing German, based preferably on the texts read in class. Regular oral work in German is especially recommended. The pupil's knowledge of grammar should be thoroughly fixed by repetition of essentials, and gradually extended throughout the year. Six German poems should be memorized. The reading for this year should comprise from 150 to 200 pages of graduated texts.

Intermediate (three units).—During this year the work should comprise, in addition to the two-unit requirement, "the reading of about 400 pages of moderately difficult prose and poetry, with constant practice in giving, sometimes orally, sometimes in writing, paraphrases, abstracts, or reproductions from memory of selected portions of the matter read; also grammatical drill upon the less usual strong verbs, the use of articles, cases, auxiliaries of all kinds, tenses and modes (with especial reference to the infinitive and the subjunctive), and likewise upon word order and word formation." The reading should include one play of Schiller, and Hermann und Dorothea, or Minna von Barnhelm.

†These requirements follow the recommendations of the Modern Language Association of America (see College Entrance Examination Board, Document No. 82). Sentences taken directly from that Document are here placed in quotation marks.

Maximum (four units).—The work for this year should comprise, in addition to the three-unit requirement, "the reading of about 500 pages of good literature in prose and poetry, reference readings upon the lives and works of the great writers studied, the writing in German of numerous short themes upon assigned subjects." The pupil should be able to "answer in German questions relating to the lives and works of great writers studied, and to write in German a short and independent theme upon some assigned topic."

French (two, three, or four units).

Minimum (two units).—This represents two years' work in high school. It is expected that the student will have had during the first year thorough drill in pronunciation, including symbols of the Association Phonétique Internationale; dictation; rudiments of grammar; common irregular verbs; oral and written exercises; 100 to 150 pages reading of elementary texts such as a well graded reader for beginners; Bruno, Le Tour de la France; Laboulaye, Contes Bleus; Méras and Roth, Petits Contes de France; etc.

During the second year, continued drill on pronunciation; grammar (with special attention to verbs and pronouns); constant practice in oral and written French based on reading done; insistence on accurate rendering into idiomatic English; reading of 250 to 400 pages of easy modern prose. Suggested texts; Lavisse, Histoire de France; Labiche et Martin, Le Voyage de M. Perrichon; Halévy, L'Abbé Constantin; LaBrète, Mon Oncle et mon curé; Erckmann-Chatrian, stories; or others of similar grade.

Intermediate (three units).—This requires a third year, during which the practical drill of the two previous years should be continued, with the reading of 400 to 600 pages of texts of intermediate grade, for example: Mérimée, Colomba; Labiche et Martin, La Poudre aux yeux; Maupassant, Huit Contes Choisis; Daudet, Contes or Le Petit Chose or Tartarin de Tarascon; Bazin, Les Oberlé; Dumas, novels; Sand, La Mare au Diable; etc.

Advanced (four units).—In addition to training previously indicated, this presupposes the reading of 600 to 1,000 pages of standard French, in class or assigned, and the use of a book for grammar review and composition, such as François' Introductory French Prose Composition. The student "should be able to read at sight with the help of a vocabulary of special or technical expressions, difficult French not earlier than that of the Seventeenth Century; to write in French a short essay on some simple subject connected with the works read; to put into French a passage of easy English prose; and to carry on a simple conversation in French." Ability in the spoken language will be tested orally. Suitable texts are: Daudet; Hugo, Les Misérables; Molière, L'Avare, Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme; Labiche, Moi; Taine, L'Ancien Régime; Loti, Pêcheur d'Islande; Balzac, Eugénie Grandet; an anthology of verse; etc.

SPANISH (two units).—This represents two years' work in high school, the first year of which should comprise thorough drill in pronunciation (preferably the Castilian); rudiments of grammar; regular and more common irregular verbs; dictation; oral and written drill in colloquial Spanish; careful reading and understanding of about 100 pages of easy modern prose, in such readers as Roessler and Remy, First Spanish Reader; Pittaro, A Spanish Reader; Fuentes and François, A Trip to Spanish America; etc.

During the second year the exercises of the first year should be continued with more difficult material, giving abundant practice in simple composition and conversation on vocabulary of everyday life; reading about 200 pages of easy prose and verse. Avoid too difficult texts. Suggested reading: a reader containing stories of Spanish or South American life; Escrich, Fortuna; Carrion and Aza, Zaragüeta; selected stories of Alarcón or Trueba; Alarcón, El Capitán Veneno.

HISTORY (one, two or three units).

(a) United States History and Government (one unit).
(b) English History (one unit).
(c) Mediæval and Modern History (one unit).
(d) Greek and Roman History (one unit).
(e) Civics (one-half or 1 unit).

HISTORY OF ENGLISH LITERATURE, OR HISTORY OF AMERICAN LITERATURE, with selected readings (one unit). These readings should be additional to those offered under Required Literature (p. 38).

Physics (one unit). — The following textbooks are recommended: Millikan and Gale's First Course in Physics; Carhart and Chute's Principles of Physics; Hoadley's Essentials of Physics.

The subject must occupy one year, with the equivalent of three recitations and three hours of laboratory work a week. The recitations must be accompanied by demonstrations illustrating the principal phenomena. A laboratory notebook with certificate signed by the instructor, stating that the notebook is a record of the individual laboratory work done by the student presenting it, must be presented at the time of matriculation.

Chemistry (one unit).—The subject must have been pursued throughout one year of a high school course consisting of recitation and laboratory practice equivalent to five hours each week.

The candidate must present a notebook showing the completion of twenty-five well-selected experiments as a minimum; as given in most high school texts, this represents about forty experiments.

Unless the notebook is properly certified and signed on a form supplied by the college for this purpose, no credit will be allowed except by examination.

Biology (one unit).—A year's work in general biology, with textbook and laboratory work of at least five periods per week. At least two periods per week should be devoted to laboratory work, and the student must present the laboratory notebook for examination.

Text recommended: Hunter's Essentials of Biology.

Botany (one-half unit).—Half a year's work in the study of plants, with laboratory work as required in general biology.

Texts recommended: Stevens' Introduction to Botany; Coulter's Plants; Bergen and Davis's Principles of Botany.

Zoölogy (one-half unit).—Half a year's work in the study of animals, with laboratory work as required in general biology.

Texts recommended: Kellogg's Elementary Zoölogy; Galloway's Elementary Zoölogy; Davenport's Elements of Zoölogy; Linville and Kelly's General Zoölogy.

PHYSIOGRAPHY (one-half unit).—This subject may entitle the candidate to one unit if it has been pursued for an entire year with laboratory work and a notebook is presented.

SOLID GEOMETRY (one-half unit).—The usual theorems and constructions of good textbooks, including the relations of planes and lines in space; the properties and measurement of prisms, pyramids, cylinders, and cones; the sphere and the spherical triangle. The solution of numerous original exercises, including loci problems. Applications to the mensuration of surfaces and solids.

ADMISSION BY CERTIFICATE

The certificates of High Schools, Seminaries, Institutes, Fitting Schools and Colleges that are accredited by Colleges of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, or by the similar associations of the New England and Middle States, will be received in lieu of entrance examinations for what they certify to have been done. These certificates should be on the forms provided by the College. When desired, examination questions will be sent to teachers preparing students for the College, who will return the papers to us.

HOW TO APPLY FOR ADMISSION

All applications for reservation of room should be promptly followed by statement of preparation made upon the blank forms of the College. These will be sent upon request free of charge.

Rooms in the College dormitories will be assigned to new students in the order of their engagements.

Students should report to the office promptly upon arrival.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES

The degrees offered are Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts.

THE A. B. DEGREE

Every candidate for the A. B. degree must complete, before graduation, sixty hours of college work and, in addition, three hours of work as prescribed by the Director of Physical Education and Hygiene. The unit of time is the session hour; that is, one class appointment per week for one session counts as one hour.

The arrangement of courses leading to the degree consists of two years of prescribed and two years of elective work.

The following courses are required of all candidates for the A. B. degree:

English	Freshman year	3 hours
Latin	Freshman year	3 hours
Mathematics	Freshman year	4 hours
Greek or French or German	Freshman or Sophomore year,	3 hours
History	Freshman or Sophomore year,	3 hours
A Science	Freshman or Sophomore year,	3 hours
*Bible	Sophomore year	2 hours
Philosophy	Sophomore year	3 hours
A Science	Sophomore or Junior year	3 hours
A second course in any required subject except the leading one	Sophomore or Junior year	3 hours
		30 hours

All candidates for the degree not offering Greek for entrance are required to take at least one college course in French or German. Those receiving no entrance credits in French or German must take one college course in each subject. A student may be excused from a college course in one of them provided she has an entrance credit of at least two units in that subject.

*Freshmen may also be admitted to this course, though it is recommended that it be postponed until the second year.

Those who offer three units of Greek for admission may take the required college course in that subject instead of a modern language.

One course each in two of the sciences, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics, must be taken by all applicants for the degree. A student credited with an entrance unit in the remaining one of these sciences will be excused from a college course in this subject. Those who do not receive any entrance credits in these subjects are required to take a full year's course in each of two of them, and a half year in the other one.

The required course in History is one of the general courses, History 1, 2, 3 and 4. Of this series of four courses, the student must take the first one in which she offered no entrance unit.

As far as possible, required courses should be completed before electives are taken.

Upon completing the work of the second year, each student will be expected to select a leading subject from the following: English, English Literature, Latin, Greek, German, French, Philosophy, History, Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Sociology, or Political Science. She will be required to complete nine hours of elective courses in her leading subject. Other courses amounting to nine hours will be arranged after conference with her adviser, the head of the department in which she elects her principal work. The remaining twelve hours of electives may be selected by the student.

THE A. M. DEGREE

The A. M. degree will be granted to the A. B. graduates of this College, or of other colleges of equal rank, upon the completion of fifteen hours of work, in residence, selected from advanced courses and subject to the approval of the faculty. These courses must be chosen from two or three subjects. Instead of three hours of this work a thesis on work in the student's principal subject may be substituted if desired by the student and approved by the professor. The thesis must be approved by the heads of the departments in which the student has done her work and a typewritten copy presented to the College.

CERTIFICATES OF PROFICIENCY

A student completing satisfactorily the course in Music or Art will, upon application, receive a Certificate of Proficiency.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

ASTRONOMY

PROFESSOR KILBY

Astronomy 1 Descriptive Astronomy. 2 hrs.

Wednesday and Friday, 12:20.

This course deals largely with the descriptive phase of the subject, and is intended to give general information concerning celestial phenomena. Methods of determining time, positions of stars, motions of planets, etc., are fully discussed, and use is made of star charts, lantern slides, celestial globe, and the observatory. The textbook is supplemented by lectures on Astro-Physics, Spectroscopy, Cosmogony, and other allied topics. When the weather permits, the class meets on Thursday night for observatory work, and in this event does not meet on the following Friday. Mathematics 1 and some knowledge of Physics are prerequisite. No credit is given for a half year's work.

TEXT—Manual of Astronomy, Young; The Constellations, Kilby.

BIBLE

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR CORWIN

Bible 1 New Testament History and Literature. 2 hrs.

Monday and Wednesday, 9:50 and 11:30.
Tuesday and Thursday, 10:40 and 12:20.

It is the purpose of this course to study the history and the essential character of early Christianity as it is represented by the different New Testament writers. Special attention is given to the growth of religious ideals, doctrines, and institutions in the life of the Church. Questions of introduction to the books of the New Testament and studies in the history of New Testament times are included, as they bear upon the development of thought. An outline study of the rise of the New Testament in the Church is given.

Required for the degree, except where permission is given that Bible 2 or 3 be taken instead.

Bible 2 Old Testament History and Literature. 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:00.

The aim of this course is to study religion and ethics as they developed in the life of the Hebrews, and as they gave rise to Old Testament literature. With this in view, a study is made of the different periods of Hebrew history. The writings of the Old Testament are studied in their origin, and in their literary form and character, in order to gain an understanding of the spirit and message of the great teachers and leaders, and to recognize the permanent value of their writings.

Open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors.

Bible 3 Studies in the Life and Teachings of Jesus. 2 hrs.

Wednesday and Friday, 12:20.

This course is planned with a twofold purpose: First, a study of the life of Christ from the first three Gospels in the light of the conditions of the time. Emphasis is placed upon Jesus' conception of His Messianic calling, His inner experiences, and the meaning of His life for His disciples. Second, the life and teachings of Jesus as they have been appropriated and interpreted by the Church, and especially in their bearing upon religious and ethical problems of to-day.

Open to Juniors and Seniors.

Bible 4 Religious Education.

(a) Principles and Methods of Religious Education. 2 hrs. 1st term.

Wednesday and Friday, 9:00.

This course gives a study of the chief facts of religious life and their development in the consciousness of the individual. Each period of growth is made the subject of special study. Religious ideas, experiences, and practices are considered in relation to the distinctive characterstics of each of the different ages. The study includes such subjects as instinct, habit, and will. Emphasis is placed on the training of the child in worship. Methods of teaching are especially considered in their application to the different grades of the Church School. Attention is given to types of lessons and teaching, with emphasis upon story telling.

Open to Juniors and Seniors who have completed Course 1, 2, or 3, and Philosophy 1.

(b) Problems of Religious Education. 2 hrs. 2d term.

Wednesday and Friday, 9:00.

TEXTS—Plautus: Captivi and Trinummus (Morris), Rudens (Sonnenschein), Menæchmi (Fowler), Mostellaria (Fay); Terence; Andria (Freeman and Sloman), Phormio (Sloman), Adelphoe and Heautontimorumenos (Ashmore); Cicero (Hart); Lucretius (Merrill); Seneca (Kingery, Hasse). Not offered 1922-23.]

Latin 7 Teachers' Course. 1 hr. 2d term.

Thursday, 9:50.

This course will be devoted to discussions of the principles of Latin syntax and to a study of the methods of teaching Latin in the secondary schools. Open to Seniors.

MATHEMATICS

PROFESSOR PATTILLO PROFESSOR LAREW
ADJUNCT PROFESSOR RUSSELL MISS BOWEN
MISS WATTS

Mathematics 1 4 hrs.

For schedule of sections, see page 89.

(a) Advanced Algebra.

Beginning with a fuller treatment of ratio, proportion, variation, the three progressions, surds and imaginaries than is usually given in preparatory schools, this class will take up in order the theory of quadratic equations, permutations and combinations, binominal theorem, logarithms, series, undetermined coefficients, probability, determinants, and the theory of equations.

(b) Solid Geometry.

Lines and planes in space, dihedral and polyhedral angles, projections, polyhedra, including prisms, pyramids, and the regular solids, cylinders, cones, spheres, spherical triangles, and the measurement of surfaces and solids.

(c) Plane Trigonometry.

While a careful study will be made of the properties of right and oblique triangles and their solution, much of the time will be devoted to trigonometric analysis.

TEXTBOOKS—Rietz and Crathorne's College Algebra; Slaught and Lennes's Solid Geometry; Conant's Plane Trigonometry.

Mathematics 2 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:50.

(a) Analytic Geometry.

The conception of a locus having been established, the straight line, the circle, the parabola, the ellipse, the hyperbola, the polar equation of the conic, and the general equation of the second degree are successively taken up; this is followed by an elementary introduction to Solid Geometry.

(b) Differential and Integral Calculus.

A study of the elementary principles and applications of the Calculus.

TEXTBOOKS—Tanner and Allen's Analytic Geometry; Granville's Differential and Integral Calculus.

Mathematics 3 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 11:30.

(a) Integral Calculus.

This is a continuation of the work given in Course 2, the subject here being treated much more fully.

(b) Differential Equations.

An elementary course devoted mainly to the solution of the simpler ordinary and partial differential equations, with a few geometric and physical applications.

TEXTBOOKS—Granville's Differential and Integral Calculus; Murray's Differential Equations.

Mathematics 4 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 12:20.

(a) Analytical Geometry of Three Dimensions.

The plane, the straight line, the quadric surfaces, general theory of surfaces.

(b) Theory of Equations.

An advanced course in the general Theory of Equations, in which a knowledge of the Calculus will be presupposed.

TEXTBOOKS—C. Smith's Solid Geometry; Burnside and Panton's Theory of Equations, Vol. I.

[Mathematics 5 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 12:20.

(a) Analytic Geometry.

An advanced course, with an introduction to modern Analytic Geometry.

(b) Advanced Calculus.

The usual topics of an advanced course will be treated, while many examples taken from problems in Geometry and Physics will be considered.

TEXT AND REFERENCE BOOKS—Salmon's Conic Sections; Goursat's Cours d'Analyse; Williamson's Differential Calculus; Williamson's Integral Calculus; Wilson's Advanced Calculus. Not offered 1922-23.]

Mathematics 6 Projective Geometry. 2 hrs.

Wednesday and Friday, 9:00.

An elementary presentation of the spirit and methods of modern Synthetic Geometry.

TEXTBOOK—Dowling's Projective Geometry.

Mathematics 7 Applications of the Calculus to Problems of Mechanics. 2 hrs.

Wednesday and Friday, 10:40.

A course designed to extend the knowledge of the power of the calculus and to develop a facility in applying it to the problems of mechanics. A first course in the calculus and an elementary course in general physics are prerequisites.

TEXTBOOK—Smith and Longley's Theoretical Mechanics.

Mathematics 8 History and Teaching of Mathematics. 2 hrs.

A course designed to give a general view of the historical development of mathematics and the methods of teaching the subject.

PHILOSOPHY

PROFESSOR CROOKS — ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR GEISSLER
ADJUNCT PROFESSOR FRIEDLINE — MISS SCOTT

Philosophy 1 3 hrs.

For schedule, see page 90.

This course is required for the degree.

(a) Psychology. 3 hrs. 1st term.

This is a course in the general principles of Psychology, some attention being given to the application of the psychological method to special fields of interest.

(b) Laboratory Practice. 5 hrs. 2d term.

This is a beginning course in the method and practice of psychological experimentation. The experiments done are for the most part in the field of qualitative analysis.

or (c) Introduction to Philosophy. 3 hrs. 2d term.

The method of giving this course will be by a brief historical survey of the development of Philosophy, followed by a more detailed consideration of the major problems considered by Philosophy.

Philosophy 2a Genetic Psychology. 3 hrs. 1st term.

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 9:50.

An objective treatment of the facts of structure and behavior in the race and in the individual, with special stress on the mental development of the child. The laws of heredity, the origin and development of instincts, the conditions governing habit formation, and kindred topics will be made the subject of discussion.

TEXTS—Kirkpatrick's Genetic Psychology, and Fundamentals of Child Study.

SUPPLEMENTARY READING—Colvin and Bagley's Human Behavior; Watson's Behavior; Kirkpatrick's Individual in the Making.

Philosophy 2b Ethics. 3 hrs. 2d term.

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 9:50.

This will consist of a careful consideration of the nature of desire, motive, etc., with their significance in the interpretation of human freedom, a brief study of types of theory concerning the moral standard and its application to the system of virtues, moral institutes, and moral progress. Emphasis will be put on the social applications of moral principles. Textbook work will be expected, and free discussion will be encouraged.

TEXTS—Drake's Problems of Conduct; Rand's Classical Moralists.

REFERENCES—Dewey and Tufts; Seth; Baldwin's Social and Ethical Interpretations.

Philosophy 3 History of Philosophy. 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 11:30.

(a) Ancient and Mediæval Philosophy. 1st term.

This will include a general account of the development of the philosophic thought from its origin in Greece upwards. Emphasis is put upon the organic connection of systems.

(b) Modern Philosophy. 2d term.

Especial emphasis is put upon the English movement in Philosophy as the basis for comprehending the Kantian and Post-Kantian movements.

Lectures, textbook work, prescribed readings and essays will constitute the method of instruction. Students will be required to read in part the following: Plato's Republic, The Symposium, The Apology, and The Phædo. Nicomachean Ethics of Aristotle, Descartes's Method and Meditations, Spinoza's Ethics, Liebnitz's New Essays, Locke's Essay on Human Understanding, Berkeley's Principles, Hume's Treatise.

TEXTS—Rogers's Students' History of Philosophy; Bakewell's Source Book in Ancient Philosophy; Rand's Modern Classical Philosophers.

REFERENCES—Windelband, Erdmann, Höffding, Thilly.

Philosophy 4 Applied Psychology. 3 hrs. 1st term.

Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 9:00.

Lectures, with prescribed reading and reports, on problems of the nature of the individual, of character and personality, and of individual differences, on measuring individual achievement and efficiency, and on the influence of physiological, environmental, and social factors on mental efficiency.

Philosophy 5 Psychology and Philosophy of Religion. 3 hrs. 1st term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:00.

A psychological study of the religious experience, followed by a philosophical interpretation of the fundamental religious conceptions. The method of the course will be lectures, readings, and reports.

Philosophy 6 Contemporary Philosophy. 3 hrs. 2d term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:00.

The various movements of thought in Germany, England, France, Italy, and America, from about 1880 to the present time. See note under Course 8.

TEXTS—Citations from the leading contemporary philosophers, emphasis being given to Pragmatism, Neo-Realism, and Idealism, Perry's Present Philosophical Tendencies.

[Philosophy 7 Kantian Criticism. 3 hrs. 1st term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:00.

This will be a study of the Critiques of Pure Reason and Practical Reason and the Critique of Judgment. The main work will be put upon the Critique of Pure Reason. See note under Course 8.

TEXT—Watson's Selections.

REFERENCE—Watson's Kant and His English Critics; Caird's Critical Philosophy of Kant; Paulsen's Immanuel Kant. Not offered 1922-23.]

[Philosophy 8 Metaphysics and Post-Kantianism. 3 hrs. 2d term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:00.

(a) Metaphysics.

Two hours per week, second term. It will deal with the cardinal questions of modern metaphysics, interpretation of the vital concepts of modern science and philosophy, and will seek to reach some conception of the relation of the individual to the absolute.

TEXT—Royce's The World and the Individual, Volumes 1 and 2.

COLLATERAL READING—Bradley, Schiller, and Taylor.

(b) Post-Kantianism.

A rapid historical survey of Post-Kantian Idealism, occupying one hour per week during the second term.

REFERENCE—Höffding's History of Modern Philosophy.

COLLATERAL READING—Royce's Spirit of Modern Philosophy; McTaggart, Hegelian Dialectic.

NOTE—Courses 5 and 6 will be given in the same year, and Courses 7 and 8 likewise, and these combinations will be offered on alternate years. Not offered 1922-23.]

Philosophy 9 Æsthetics. 3 hrs. 1st term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:50.

A brief historical survey will be made of the field, after which a study will be made of the æsthetic experience according to the methods of Psychology and Philosophy.

TEXTS—Croce, Æsthetic; Bosanquet, History of Æsthetic; Puffer, Psychology of Beauty.

[Philosophy 10 Logic. 3 hrs. 1st term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:50.

A study of elementary logic, deductive and inductive, especial attention begin given to the methods of science. A review of the modern developments of logical theory will be made at the end of the course.

TEXT—Hibben's Logic, Deductive and Inductive. Not offered 1922-23.]

Philosophy 11 Advanced Psychology. 3 hrs.

(a) First term. Quantitative Methods.

Lecture, Saturday, 11:30; Laboratory, Tuesday and Thursday, 11:30 to 1:05.

The first term is devoted to advanced laboratory practice in the three quantitative methods of statistical correlations, psychophysical measurements, and graphic registration, the lectures demonstrating the application of these methods in the fields of sensibility, perception, attention, affections and emotions.

(b) Second term. Experimental Problems.

(Hours to be arranged)

Each member of the class will investigate some special problem in experimental or applied or clinical psychology, based on assigned readings in the technical literature of the field, supplemented by weekly conferences, and leading to a detailed final report. Prerequisites: Philosophy 1 (a) and 1 (b) and Philosophy 11 (a).

PHYSICS

PROFESSOR KILBY MISS BOGGS

Physics 1 General Physics. 3 hrs.

Section A—Tuesday and Thursday, 10:40.
Section B—Tuesday and Thursday, 11:30.

The elementary principles of Physics are accurately treated and illustrated by numerous classroom demonstrations. Special attention is given to the explanation of the phenomena of everyday life.

Laboratory work accompanies the course throughout the year. When laboratory work is not conducted during any particular week, the class meets on the Saturday of the same week at the usual hour. Mathematics 1 is a prerequisite.

TEXTS—College Physics, Carhart; Laboratory Manual of Physics, Kilby; Definitions of Physics, Kilby.

[Physics 2 Mechanics, Light, and Sound. 3 hrs.

Wednesday and Friday, 10:40.

TEXTS—Mechanics and Heat, Franklin and MacNutt; Light and Sound, Franklin and MacNutt; Experiments in Mechanics, Kilby; Experiments in Light, Kilby. Not offered 1922-23.]

Physics 3 Electricity, Magnetism, and Heat. 3 hrs.

Wednesday and Friday, 10:40.

TEXTS—Electricity and Magnetism, Franklin and MacNutt; Mechanics and Heat, Franklin and MacNutt; Experiments in Electricity, Magnetism and Heat, Kilby.

Physics 2 and Physics 3 are continuations of Physics 1, and consist of more advanced treatments of the subject. They are offered on alternate years, and either may be taken first. Laboratory work accompanies each course. Physics 3 will be given in 1922-23.

NOTE—It is absolutely necessary for new students to bring their high school laboratory report books, properly signed, in order to obtain entrance credit.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

PROFESSOR PEAKE

All courses in political science are elective and are, in general, open to students who have had a college course in history. Courses 5, 6, and 7, however, are intended primarily for Juniors and Seniors.

Political Science 2 American Government. 3 hrs.

Section A—Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 11:30.
Section B—Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:00.

(a) National Government. 1st term

This course will include a study of the framing and adoption of the Federal Constitution and of the principles, organization, and administration of national government in the United States.

(b) State and Local Government. 2d term.

This course will include a study of the place of the States in the American system; the organization and administration of state government; the importance of local government; the organization and administration of local government in county, town, and city.

Political Science 3 Comparative Government. 3 hrs. 1st term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 10:40.

A comparative study of the governments of the principal modern states with respect to origin, development, principles, organization, administration, etc.

Political Science 4 City Government. 3 hrs. 2d term.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 10:40.

A detailed study of the organization, administration, and problems of municipal government in the United States with some consideration of municipal government in European countries.

Political Science 5 Principles of Political Science. 2 hrs. 1st term.

Tuesday and Saturday, 11:30.

A study of the origin and nature of the State, and of the forms, functions, and problems of government.

Political Science 6 International Relations. 2 hrs. 2d term.

Tuesday and Saturday, 11:30.

A study of the development of international relations—economic and political—in the past; international coöperation in the present, and the conditions, favorable and unfavorable, to a more complete coöperation in the future.

Political Science 7 International Law and Diplomacy. 1 hr.

This course will, by lectures and readings, deal with (1) the origin, nature, and principles of international law; (2) the general utility of the diplomatic service, the rights and duties of diplomats, the history and problems of American diplomacy.

SOCIOLOGY

Professor Ayers

Sociology 1 Introduction to Economics. 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:50.

This course deals with the rise of modern industry and its expansion in the United States; production, distribution, and consumption; value, price, and the monetary system of the United States; tariff, labor movement, natural and legal monopolies; American railroads and trusts; economic reform; government expenditures and revenues; taxation and economic progress.

The last half of this course deals with the development of economic thought. This will include a brief survey of economic thought in classical antiquity and its development in Europe, England, and America. Mill, Turgot, Adam Smith, Malthus, Ricardo, and other writers will be considered.

The members of the class will be taken on tours of inspection through industrial institutions in and about Lynchburg.

Sociology 2 Introduction to Social Science. 3 hrs.

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 10:40.
Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 11:30.

Grammar, conversation, and reading of modern authors.

Texts—Hills and Ford, First Spanish Course; Reader; Alarcón, El Capitán Veneno; short comedy.

Spanish 2 Advanced Spanish. 3 hrs.

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 9:00.

Grammar, conversation, prose composition, and reading.

Texts—Cervantes, Don Quixote; Moratín, El sí de las Niñas; Valera, El Comendador Mendoza; Echegaray, O locura ó santidad; Umphrey, Spanish Prose Composition.

Open to those who have completed Course 1.

Spanish 3 Rapid Survey. 3 hrs.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9:00.

A rapid survey of Spanish literature, with class and assigned reading of representative authors of the classic and modern periods. Ford, Main Currents of Spanish Literature, and other references to historical and critical studies.

MUSIC

Professor Norris — Professor Davis
Professor Clark — Professor Adams
Miss Bond — Adjunct Professor Sneed
Mrs. Cheatham — Mr. Kleunter

This department is under the direct supervision of Professor Norris. Instruction, both theoretical and practical, will be given in theory, history, piano, violin, solo singing, choral and sight singing, orchestra, and methods of teaching music.

Entrance Requirements.—Students must understand the rudiments of music and have some technical proficiency before the theoretical courses can be taken.

Where the examination shows deficient training an introductory course will be given, but no beginner in music will be received in the department.

Students completing the course in either instrumental or vocal music will receive a Certificate of Proficiency from the Department of Music.

CREDITS IN MUSIC COUNTING ON THE A. B. DEGREE

By a recent action of the Faculty and Board of Trustees the number of Music Credits leading toward the A. B. degree has been increased to nine. They have also decided to allow three of the nine credits so earned to be made in practical music—instrumental or vocal study. This means that a student of standing above Freshman may claim one credit in practical music per year if that study is accompanied by credited theoretical courses.

WHO MAY STUDY MUSIC

Freshmen are welcomed into all music courses both practical and theoretical. They will not be credited with practical music in that year, but all theoretical work will be credited then or later up to six credits. Freshmen are urged to continue their practical music work on entering college because a delay of one year may seriously affect their progress whether they expect to claim a Certificate or not.

Each course in Theory will be credited as two hours credit towards a degree.

The four courses in Theory are required for completion of either instrumental or vocal courses. All students of music, instrumental or vocal, will be required to take the introductory year in Theory, unless excused after examination.

Students in the vocal course will be required to pass the examination in Piano 2 before certificate will be given.

Resident students who specialize in music will be required to take nine hours a week in the academic departments. A half-course in piano is offered for advanced students whose literary studies do not leave full time for music. In music, as in other subjects, students enter the course for which they are prepared.

Examinations are given twice a year, and students are advanced as rapidly as possible. Each course is designed to cover one year's time, but if a student has time for extra practice, or learns rapidly, she will be advanced at any time to the course her progress entitles her to enter; if she falls below the work required, in amount or quality, she will not be advanced until the deficiency is made up. The introductory courses are arranged for students whose training has been deficient.

Students receive both private and class lessons. Musicals and lectures will be given frequently.

For both instruction and practice only Knabe pianos are used. Thirty-four new pianos were installed in 1918. Worn pianos are replaced by new ones and kept in first-class condition.

The four courses in Theory of Music are elective courses, without extra charge to college students.

For terms for instrumental, vocal, and introductory theory courses, see page 33.

I. Theory

Professor Norris — Professor Davis
Adjunct Professor Sneed — Mrs. Cheatham

An introductory course of one year is offered, and students will be required to pass a satisfactory examination before taking Theory 1.

Introductory Year.

The history of notation; formation of intervals; origin and development of scales and simple harmonic chords; relationship of keys; a general survey, with illustrations at keyboard of rhythm, tempo, marks of expression, use of pedals, phrasing, and melodic embellishments. Twice a week throughout the year.

Theory 1 Harmony. 2 hrs.

This course includes a thorough treatment of intervals; the principal consonant and dissonant chords in their relation to harmonic progression; modulation to related keys; the use of passing notes and suspensions; the harmonizing of a given theme, or a figured bass; practical work at keyboard and in written exercises. Twice a week throughout the year.

Theory 2 Advanced Harmony and Counterpoint. 2 hrs.

A continuation of Theory 1, with an enlarged development of dissonant combinations. Use of the pedal note, unrelated tones, and harmonic sequences as applied in harmonizing a given theme, and in original exercises. Harmonic counterpoint; harmonic accompaniment; practical work at the keyboard and in written exercises. Twice a week throughout the year. This course is open to students who have completed Theory 1.

Theory 3 History of Music. 2 hrs.

This course will give a general survey of the subject. Ancient and Greek music; the music of the early Christian age; the development of counterpoint and polyphonic music; the Italian, French, and German opera; the oratorio; the development of instrumental music; the great Art Forms; biographies of the great composers. Twice a week throughout the year.

This course is open to all college students, but students are advised to take Theory 1 and Theory 2 before taking Theory 3.

Theory 4 Counterpoint, Form, and Analysis. 2 hrs.

This course is a development of work begun in Theory 2, and includes more advanced work in counterpoint, with thematic, rhythmic, and harmonic analysis of compositions, by the best composers of the classic and romantic periods. Twice a week throughout the year.

This course can be taken after Theory 2, but will be of greater benefit to students who also take Theory 3 before beginning Theory 4.

II. Pianoforte

PROFESSOR NORRIS PROFESSOR ADAMS
PROFESSOR DAVIS MISS BOND

Students must be familiar with correct phrasing, staccato and legato touch, the ordinary signs used in music, and their application, and have some technical proficiency before Piano 1 can be taken.

Piano 1

Students who take this course will have technical studies to develop touch, finger, and wrist action; scales and arpeggios in various forms; studies and sonatas by such composers as Czerny, Clementi, Loeschhorn, Kuhlau, or equivalents. Two lessons a week and two periods of daily practice throughout the year.

Piano 2

Continued study of scales and arpeggios; studies and sonatas by Clementi, Heller, Mozart, Haydn, Mendelssohn, Bach, and others. Two lessons a week and two periods of daily practice throughout the year.

Piano 3

Scales in double thirds and sixths; arpeggios, trills, and wrist studies; selections from Bach Inventions; Clementi, Cramer and Loeschhorn studies; Czerny advanced studies, Beethoven Sonatas, Schubert, Schumann, Chopin, and other composers. Two lessons a week and two periods of daily practice throughout the year.

Piano 4

This course is a perfecting of all the previous courses. More difficult technical studies will be required, and larger, more important works by the best composers will be studied. No student can complete this course until a thorough knowledge of the best music for the pianoforte has been acquired, and sufficient mastery of technic to interpret such works with intelligence. In Piano 4, attention will be given to four- and eight-hand arrangements for the pianoforte of symphonies and other compositions for orchestra. Two lessons a week and two periods of daily practice throughout the year.

III. Singing

PROFESSOR CLARK MRS. CHEATHAM

Students must have some knowledge of the rudiments of music and must be able to read simple music before taking Voice 1. Students beginning the study of singing and expecting to take a certificate in this subject should take Voice 1 in the Freshman year.

Two private lessons, one hour chorus work, and six periods practice weekly.

Voice 1 No credit.

Tone production. Voice production in speech. Technical studies with special attention to articulation and phrasing. Folk songs. Songs suited to individual needs.

Voice 2 1 hr.

Development of tone and technic. The use of Italian text in its bearing on English diction. Italian songs of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Study of the songs of Schubert. General song work.

Voice 3 1 hr.

Study of agility in the arias of Handel, Haydn, Verdi, and other composers of this period. Interpretation of German art songs with emphasis on Schumann, Brahms, and Franz. Modern French songs.

Voice 4 1 hr.

Continued study of diction and interpretation covering a wide range of song literature. Further study of opera and oratorio including modern opera, Program making.

All students who complete Voice 4 must pass the examination required in Piano 2 and such examinations as the professor of singing may require in sight singing and chorus practice.

Chorus Class

This class is open to students who pass an examination given by the professor of singing. This work is required of all voice students who are prepared for it. The class meets for one hour every Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

IV. Violin

MR. KLUENTER

Students must have some knowledge of music before this course can be taken.

Instruction on the violin will be given in private or class lessons. A systematic course is followed. Two lessons a week and such practice as the student requires. As a rule, this course covers four years.

Orchestra

Any student who is sufficiently advanced in the playing of an orchestral instrument, and who has passed a satisfactory examination by the director of the orchestra, may become a member of the orchestra. No charge is attached to this work.

V. Organ

PROFESSOR NORRIS

The course of study for organ provides for careful training in the mastery of that instrument, for the playing of hymns and voluntaries, and the art of improvisation. A knowledge of the various schools of organ music as represented by the best composers in each will also be given. Methods are adapted to individual needs of each student, and the constant aim will be to train for practical efficiency in church music in general.

Course of Study

Students beginning the study of the organ should have completed Course 2 in Piano, and should continue a partial study of the piano (one half course) throughout the course. A knowledge of harmony is essential. The course includes the study of church music, with special reference to the playing of hymns, choir accompaniments and improvisation.

Course 1

Douglass Organ School. Books I-II. Pedal Studies by Schneider, Book I. Selected voluntaries by classical and modern composers.

Course 2

Douglass Organ School, Book III. Pedal Studies, Schneider, Book II. Studies in Pedal Phrasing. Op. 182, by Merkel. Pedal Phrasing, Op. 28, by Buck. Eight short Preludes and Fugues (Vol. VIII) by Bach. Compositions by Rheinberger, Merkel, Guilmant, Bonnet, Faulkes, Lemare, and others. Hymn playing and accompanying.

VI. Students' Half Course

This course is designed for piano students whose academic studies prevent their taking full work in music.

Only students whose advancement would make them acceptable in full courses will be allowed to take this work.

ART

Professor Smith

I. History of Art

The following courses, to the amount of three hours, are credited on the A. B. degree. They are designed for all students, whether endowed with artistic ability or not. There is no extra fee for tuition in any course offered in the History of Art.

History of Art 1 General History of Art. 2 hrs.

Section A—Wednesday and Friday, 9:50.
Section B—Wednesday and Friday, 11:30.
Illustrated lectures, Secs. A and B, Wednesday, 7:30 P. M.

This course is designed to give students a general knowledge of the history of architecture, sculpture, and painting. Open to Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and advanced special students. Illustrated lectures, texts, and collateral reading.

History of Art 2 Interiors. 1 hr.

Section A—Wednesday, 10:40.
Section B—Thursday, 10:40.

The purpose of this course is to develop in the student a discriminating knowledge of what constitutes a good interior, and to enable her to make practical use of such knowledge. Ancient, mediæval, and modern interiors are studied. The method of instruction consists of free discussions, assigned readings, illustrated lectures, and practical work, which embraces the planning of a house to scale, designing the color scheme, and selecting the furniture for each room. Open to first-year students by permission; to Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and special art students without prerequisites. No credit is given for a half year's work.

II. Practical Art

A large studio, equipped with imported casts and objects for still-life studies, is provided for the use of students. Living models are also furnished.

The composition class meets weekly, when each student submits an original drawing or painting representing her conception of the subject which has been assigned for treatment. These compositions are criticized for the benefit of all, and care is taken that the students are drilled in the principles which underlie the foundation of good pictures. Open to special art students without extra charge.

A sketch class, doing rapid pen and pencil work from life, indoors during the winter and outdoors during the season suitable for such work, meets weekly during the entire year. Art students are members of this class without extra charge. These classes are designed as preparatory to illustrative drawing.

Memory-sketching is used to strengthen the habit of close attention to the daily subject in hand.

Painting may be done in oils or water colors.

A special course is offered in pastels.

Modeling may be done instead of painting.

Resident students who specialize in art will be required to take nine hours a week in the departments of liberal arts.

Students completing Course 6 in technical work and three hours in History of Art will receive a Certificate of Proficiency.

Students desiring to devote all their time to art may board in pleasant homes within five minutes' walk of the College and attend as day students.

Scholarships Offered.—Two annual scholarships to Paris, and a scholarship to the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts are offered the students of this department. These scholarships are valued at about $200 each.

Exhibitions.—Randolph-Macon Woman's College provides for the students, free of charge, an annual exhibition of pictures by artists of national and international fame. Additional exhibitions are given from time to time.

These exhibitions form a valuable part of the cultural opportunities of College life.

For those seeking technical knowledge the following courses are offered. For terms, see pages 33 and 34.

For schedule, see page 90.

Drawing and Painting Introductory. 3 hrs.

Drawing from objects and casts. Perspective.

Drawing and Painting 1 3 hrs.

Drawing from casts, heads, and busts; still life. Composition.

Drawing and Painting 2 3 hrs.

Drawing from casts, full lengths, life. Comparative anatomy.

Drawing and Painting 3 3 hrs.

Drawing heads from life; all models are in costume. Painting from still life. Composition. Sketching.

Drawing and Painting 4 3 hrs.

This course is a continuation of Course 3.

Drawing and Painting 5 and 6 3 hrs.

Painting from life. Composition. Outdoor sketching.

Drawing Class

Open to students who meet the requirements of the Professor of Art and whose academic work does not leave time for a full course in art.

Once a week for two consecutive periods throughout the year—Wednesday, 2:00-4:00.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND HYGIENE

MISS BELDING MISS WALLIS

MISS GILREATH

Each student, upon entering, is given an examination by the Director and Physician which furnishes a guide for the direction of exercises during the year.

Each student is required to take three hours a week of exercise in the gymnasium.

Seniors are exempt from required work after satisfactorily passing the work of the previous years.

Course 1 3 hrs.

An elementary course in marching, tactics, calisthentics, and gymnastics, including free developing exercises and rhythmical steps; fundamental exercises on ladders, Swedish boom, running, jumping, throwing, and games.

HYGIENE—During the month of October talks on the care of the body in respect to exercise, sleep, diet, bathing, disease, etc., are given.

Course 2 3 hrs.

Open to students who have completed Course 1 or its equivalent.

An intermediate course of instruction in the use of hand apparatus, including wands and dumb-bells; gymnastic apparatus—ropes, ladders, boom and saddle, German horse, and games.

One hour a week is given to folk games and æsthetic steps.

LECTURES—Emergency treatment of sprains, fractures, bruises, burns.

Course 3 3 hrs.

1st Term—Advanced tactics, hand apparatus, gymnastic apparatus, games, æsthetic and folk movements.

2d Term—Three courses selected from the following:

(A) Hand apparatus and games.	1 hour.
(B) Tactics and gymnastic apparatus.	1 hour.
(C) Æsthetic movements.	1 hour.
(D) School Hygiene.	1 hour.

Course 4 1 hr.

Fencing—For Seniors and advanced students.

Course 5 1 hr.

Interpretative Æsthetic Movements—Open to students desiring advanced work.

Athletics—Basket-ball, tennis, track, hockey, field sports are required in the fall and spring.

Swimming—Lessons and use of the natatorium are given to students. Also a course in Life Saving is given for those eligible.

Remedial Gymnastics—Where physical deficiencies are observed, the student is urged to overcome these by special exercises.

The requirements of the West Bill for a teacher's certificate in the State of Virginia are satisfied by the completion of Courses I, II, and III.

In order to secure uniformity, students are requested to have their gymnasium suits made here.

REGISTER OF GRADUATES

The alumnæ are classified below according to the year of graduation. An alumna who has married since graduation is found recorded under the name that appears on her diploma, the married name being placed immediately after this in parentheses. The Randolph-Macon degree conferred is in each case that of A. B., unless otherwise specified. The address given first is the home address; where the temporary address differs from this, it is supplied with the last position named.

Any corrections or changes of name or address should be reported to the Secretary of the Alumnæ Association, Miss Mildred Strother, R.-M. W. C., Lynchburg, Va.

The Randolph-Macon System

THE RANDOLPH-MACON SYSTEM of Colleges and Academies comprises now five members, offering secondary and collegiate instruction to both sexes, but in separate institutions. Those for young men and boys are: (1) Randolph-Macon College, at Ashland, Va., chartered in 1830; (2) Randolph-Macon Academy, at Bedford, Va., established in 1890; (3) Randolph-Macon Academy, at Front Royal, Va., established in 1892. Those for young women and girls are: Randolph-Macon Woman's College, at Lynchburg, Va., established in 1893; and Randolph-Macon Institute, Danville, Va., admitted 1897.

These five institutions are owned by one chartered, self-perpetuating Board of Trustees, to which public-spirited men and women have entrusted large means for the purpose of providing facilities for the education of young men and women under Christian influences. It is not sought nor desired in any of these institutions to influence the denominational preferences of students, but the officers in charge consider themselves under obligations to conform to the moral standards and religious usages of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under whose auspices the institutions were established. These schools and colleges are but the contribution of members of that church and of other patrons of education who have confidence in its administration of such trusts, to the uplifting of the world by means of education. The funds contributed for the purpose are applied to the best advantage for the making of strong and noble men and women, and the benefits of the facilities are open alike to all of any and every denomination; its loan-funds and scholarships are awarded to needy and worthy students without discrimination.

Last year the student enrollment in the five institutions of the System amounted to more than sixteen hundred.

Randolph-Macon College

ASHLAND, VA.

Randolph-Macon College was founded in 1830. It is situated in Ashland, Va., thirty minutes by train from Richmond and two and a half hours from Washington, D. C. Ashland is a quiet residential town of fifteen hundred inhabitants. The style of living is not expensive, and there are few inducements to spend money. The record of the College for healthfulness is most remarkable.

The aim of the College is to do the very best academic work, and her success is attested by the high rank given her by the various boards of education. The relations that exist between Randolph-Macon College and the Schools of Law, Medicine, and Engineering are almost ideal. Her elective courses enable the student to plan his work so as best to fit him for the profession that he wishes to follow.

The graduates of Randolph-Macon rank with those of the best institutions of the country, as is shown by the stand they take when they go to the leading universities in this country and abroad for their postgraduate and technical courses.

The success of the students of Randolph-Macon College is largely due to the personal care and supervision they receive. The classes being small, the professors can devote more time and attention to the individual student than is possible in larger institutions. Each student is assigned to a professor who is to act as his counselor and guide and to whom he is free to go for advice at all times.

This careful personal supervision, the dormitory system, the training in physical culture, the plan of allowing students to take part in the College government, and the carefully guarded honor system, are all features that commend themselves to our patrons.

Randolph-Macon Academy

BEDFORD, VA.

VALUE OF PLANT, $300,000

Prepares boys and young men for college, university, or business life. The Academy has been in successful operation for thirty-two years, and has, in that time, trained over 3,300 students. Its work has been endorsed by many colleges and universities. Over six hundred and forty degrees, classical and professional, have been conferred by these colleges and universities on students trained at the Academy since 1895.

A new gymnasium with swimming-pool, showers, and lockers, erected last year, adds much to the comfort and value of the plant.

The enrollment for the past ten years has been limited solely by capacity of buildings.

Special reduction to boys having sisters at R.-M. W. C.

If you wish your son prepared promptly and thoroughly for College, University, or Business Life under wholesome Christian influence, and at the least possible cost, address for catalogue and further information,

E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal,
Bedford, Va.

Randolph-Macon Academy

FRONT ROYAL, VA.

This school for boys and young men has been running for thirty years, and has been sending its graduates for twenty-eight years to the various colleges, scientific schools, and universities, among which are Randolph-Macon College, University of Virginia, Washington and Lee University, University of West Virginia, Johns Hopkins, University of Pennsylvania, and others.

On the map you will find Front Royal located near the 39th parallel, due west of Washington, D. C., in the northern end of the Shenandoah Valley. Access to Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and New York City is easy.

We suggest that you apply for catalogue and book of views, which will give you an idea of the beautiful location and surroundings. If possible, go to Front Royal to see our school.

CHAS. L. MELTON, A. M., Principal.

Randolph-Macon Institute

DANVILLE, VA.

The Institute offers the best advantages to a limited number.

The buildings are equipped with modern comforts and conveniences.

An ideal home school. The Boarding Department has accommodations for one hundred students, and these are constantly associated with the thirty members of the faculty living in the building.

The course of study meets fully the maximum College entrance requirements, and in addition offers classes that allow those young ladies, not wishing to go to College, to get a well-rounded education.

In addition to academic work, there are offered Vocal Music, Piano, Violin, Art, Expression, Commercial Courses, and Physical Culture.

The Faculty is made up of experienced teachers, full graduates of the best colleges and universities.

Rates are low for the advantages offered.
